

Congress Will Determine When President Able

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Dickson (R-Ill.) said today "it definitely will be the fault of Congress" if anything isn't done this year about proposals for determining presidential disability.

President Eisenhower has made clear he is anxious for Congress to act, Dickson said in an interview after the start yesterday of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee hearing on the matter.

The problem is to decide who shall determine when a president is so incapacitated physically or mentally that he is unable to perform his duties. The Constitution left this up to the air.

Eisenhower has endorsed a Justice Department proposal that would give Cabinet members a key role in determining when a president is disabled. But Dickson, the assistant GOP leader in the Senate, said he didn't think Eisenhower was wed to this idea.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), the subcommittee chairman, was asked by Dickson whether, in the present Democratic-controlled Congress, there was any intention to press for action. Kefauver told him there was.

Kefauver said he had been informed by Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.) of the House Judiciary Committee and Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), the committee's senior GOP member, that they expect the House to act.

Various Constitutional amendments are under consideration by Kefauver's subcommittee.

These proposals would place responsibility for determining presidential disability in the Cabinet, in Congress, in a commission, in the Supreme Court, or in combinations of all of these.

An amendment introduced by Kefauver provides for the determination to be made by a committee composed of the majority and minority leaders of the Senate and the House, and the heads of the executive departments. The chief justice would preside, but have no vote.

White House Has 6 TV Sets on 'Loan'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said today the White House has six television sets — two of them color models — on loan from manufacturers.

Hagerty said the TV sets have been placed in the White House by the manufacturers as a convenience for the president and Mrs. Eisenhower and their guests, and to help Hagerty and others at the White House keep abreast of news developments.

He said he saw no difference between the manufacturer's making the sets available than that practice of The Associated Press and The United Press in providing without cost to the White House portions of the news reports of the two services through installed teletype machines.

Hagerty's remarks were in response to a request for comment on whether he sees any impropriety in members of the Federal Communications Commission receiving color TV sets on loan from manufacturers. Hagerty declined comment.

Two color TV sets are in the White House living quarters, Hagerty said. Of the four black and white sets, one is in Hagerty's office, one in Eisenhower's office, one in a conference room, and the other in the office of Eisenhower's chief aide, Sherman Adams.

Hagerty said that so far as he can recall there were at least four TV sets on loan in the White House in 1953 when the Eisenhower family moved in at the end of the Truman administration.

Hagerty said the President and Mrs. Eisenhower own several TV sets in addition to those on loan to the White House. He said sets at the Eisenhower farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., are not on loan.

Odell Butler is accused of killing Clementine Smith, 36, whose body was found in the office of a Pine Bluff taxi company where she was employed.

Sheriff Harold Norton said Butler was returned to Jefferson County Jail yesterday and will face trial at the March term of Circuit Court here.

Consumer Price Index Stays About Same

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—If you cut down on your eating last month and happened to buy a new car you were as well off as you were in November, it says here in the cost of living index.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports its consumer price index was unchanged in December from the record high it achieved in November. Families who ate as much as ever and didn't buy a new car may disagree.

The BLS reports that meat, poultry and fish rose in price enough to push the food component of its index up 0.1 per cent. Rents rose 0.2 per cent, home appliances 0.4 per cent.

But the cost of living index as a whole held level because auto dealers started offering concessions to move large stocks. Prices of new cars dropped 2.3 per cent.

All of which brings up the question of just how accurate such an index is in measuring the cost of living—an index to which, incidentally, many wage scales are now pegged.

BLS doesn't claim its index is infallible or that it mirrors the experience of everyone or even of that mythical thing, the average family. It just contends its index is the best that can be set up under practical circumstances.

BLS bases its index on interviews with about 9,000 families, 2,000 food stores and 4,000 other concerns in 48 cities. Only families with annual incomes under $10,000 are included.

The index covers around 300 items which BLS says the typical city family in the middle income brackets buy. A lot of the items, like cars, are bought only now and then.

BLS officials explain that this is offset by its system of giving different weights to the various items on the index.

BLS isn't interested in whether its items are luxuries or whether families should economize or look for bargains. Its index is based on surveys which it says show, after being averaged out, what kind of goods and services are the middle class city dwellers buying, the quantity they buy in a year and the amount he spends for each article, and the quality of the item he purchases.

Families usually adjust to price changes much quicker than does the index. In most homes the keeper of the budget and the family income on food month in and month out. When meat prices go up, she switches from expensive cuts to more economical ones.

Mother's Plea Rejected by Chinese

HONG KONG (AP)—Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai today rejected an appeal by three American mothers for the release of their sons imprisoned by the Communists.

The others were Mrs. Rita Redmond of Yonkers, N.Y.; Mrs. Jessie Feteau of Lynn, Mass.; and Mrs. Mary Downey of New Britain, Conn. They are to leave Peking Saturday for the United States.

Hugh Redmond, a former Shanghai businessman, is serving a life sentence in a Shanghai prison on a charge of spying.

"The Premier fully understands the feeling behind your appeal, but your sons have violated Chinese laws and must be dealt with accordingly," the statement said.

It Takes a Little Old and a Little New to Make a Town

By Mary Anita Laseter

The old and the new are never very far apart.

Whether it is a case of people, places, fashion, or industry this is always true, for the old and the new need each other. The old provides stamina and experience, while the new gives foresight and progress.

Several examples of this can be seen in our town. Noticeable is the gas light on the same street with the electric light. One has charm and the other, brilliance.

Possibly the most outstanding example can be found on the southwestern corner of Second and Main Streets. This building is one of the oldest ones in the Hope business district, as many people will remember and others have learned from old photographs.

This structure was erected in 1880 and some of the architecture of that day is still visible in the graceful cupola on top of the second story.

However, the outside of the ground floor was completely remodeled several years ago, giving it a modern look. What makes it even more up-to-date in 1938 is the large sign placed on the outside wall facing Main Street.

Here, the viewer is presented an excellent look at the progress of the growing industrial fund in Hope. The goal is $250,000.

The people of Hope possess an ever-old, ever-new, human characteristic known as good common sense. For that reason they recognize an opportunity to advance our town and the people in it by advancing their investments in the Hope Industrial Fund.

Everything depends on a three letter word — YOU.

These leaders will hold similar meetings in their respective HD Clubs during the month of February.

Commies Force Army Duty, Plant Work

BERLIN (AP)—The Communists today told East German high school pupils seeking higher education that they must first put in two years in the army or one year on a state-run farm or factory.

Zeitung said the new program would become fully operative in 1939.

The ruling apparently is an effort to relieve the critical labor shortage and also a Communist move to weed out pro-Western pupils before they reach the universities. College students have taken the lead in agitation for liberalization of East Germany's Stalinist regime.

Wheat Commission Against Freight Rate

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—The Nebraska Wheat Commission filed a petition with the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday requesting that commission to reject a proposed three percent freight rate hike on Nebraska export wheat.

The petition accused the railroads of showing favoritism to wheat growers in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri and parts of Kansas, and that the railroads specified the rates would not affect those states.

Body of Girl Is Recovered From Well

WINNER, S. D. (AP)—The body of a 12-year-old schoolgirl was recovered last night from a 30-foot well on the farm where Paul Edward Huber, 26, lived.

Marvin Talbot, state's attorney said Huber — held on a murder charge — had made oral and written statements that he killed the girl, Leslie Benedict, when she resisted his advances.

Huber said he picked the girl up in his car Wednesday morning and offered to drive her to school. Instead, Talbot said the suspect took Leslie to the bachelor quarters he occupies on the farm, owned by his father. After strangling the girl, Huber disrobed his victim, burned her clothes, dragged the body to the well and covered it with debris, Talbot said.

More than 200 searchers, aided by planes and a bloodhound, were seeking the missing girl when Huber made his statement. Leslie was one of the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Benedict, who moved here three years ago from Whiting, Iowa.

Leslie was reported missing when she failed to come to school Wednesday. Her teacher said it was the first time the girl had been absent and she had thought her ill.

Because the body could not be reached through the narrow, foot-wide well shaft, crews had to dig an adjoining hole.

Huber made his statement to his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Haneman, at whose home he spent Thursday night.

Sheriff James Shoemaker, at first had questioned the statement when initial search of the well failed to disclose any body. On further questioning, the officer said Huber admitted dumping the body in the well.

Talbot, who filed a murder charge, said no witnesses yet been set for Huber's court appearance.

The man served in Korea with a South Dakota National Guard unit from Winner. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huber of rural Norfolk, Neb.

Evacuation of a School Ordered

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—The city school board here has ordered a gradual evacuation of the High Goodwin Grade School as a safety precaution.

More than 800 pupils in grades one through six will be moved as soon as other accommodations can be arranged. Under the plan, students will be moved one room at a time.

Cracks in the 2-story brick building were noticed last fall and repairs were made. But the board decided to remove pupils following an inspection by an architect and other experts.

Bill Thompson, chosen for the lead in 'Tea House of the August Moon', to be presented at Henderson State Teachers College soon, is Bill Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Thompson of Hope.

Additional Industrial Stock Sold

This was the 13th tabulation of funds since the drive for $250,000 got underway on December 5 and brought to a total of 112 firms and individuals who have invested in the corporation designed to bring new industry into Hope and Hempstead County.

The fund continued to maintain its average of $1,000-per investor in cash and signed pledges. Financial chairmen were again urged to complete their canvases of assigned groups in an effort to like the fund as much as possible by Jan. 31.

Jack Simpson, assigned to keep the tabulation sign current on the old Arkansas Bank building, was running behind because of the recent spurt by investors and inclement weather.

Farm Bureau Wants a New Parity Price

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation wants Congress to abandon the 25-year-old parity standard for measuring farm prices and adopt a new one keyed more closely to actual market prices.

The bureau's board proposed at the conclusion of meetings here yesterday that farm supports be set at 90 per cent of the "weighted average market prices" of individual products during the preceding three-year period.

It would start out using the new standard on corn and cotton next year and extend it to other commodities later.

Generally speaking, support rates under the bureau's plan would be lower than rates determined under the present parity price support system. They also would tend to be below actual market prices except in periods of rapidly and sharply declining prices.

By contrast, parity is designed to reflect prices which would give farm products the same purchasing power they had in a past favorable period, usually 1910-14. Supports based upon them are less flexible in adjusting to changes in market prices.

In determining the weighted average price the bureau would give greatest weight to prices at which largest volumes of the affected commodity moved to market and least weight to prices at which smallest volumes were sold.

Bureau President Charles B. Shuman said the new standard would "facilitate the orderly marketing of farm commodities rather than seek to guarantee unrealistic prices."

'Little Doctor' Is Dead at 92

HILLSBORO, Ky. (AP)—"The little doctor" is dead.

Dr. W. C. Reeves, who stood 5 feet 4 inches and weighed 89 pounds, retired three months ago after reaching the age of 92. He had practiced in this northeastern Kentucky area 66 years, delivering more than 3,000 babies.

When past 90, Dr. Reeves in an 24-hour period delivered four babies — including a set of twins. Dr. Reeves had been bedridden only three days prior to his death Thursday.

Soviet Envoy to Visit Nixon

William Key, Nixon's press aide, said that Zarubin was coming by to say goodbye. Zarubin is returning to the Soviet Union Jan. 20.

Asked about published reports that Zarubin intended to invite Nixon to visit the Soviet Union, Key said, "We don't know a thing about that."

Polio Victim in School for First Time

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A senior at Central High School went to school today for the first time in his life to meet his principal, teachers and all 700 of his classmates.

Robert Shinn, stricken with polio when he was 15 months old, has been "gelling" to school by means of a communication system between the classroom and his own room at home. Through this system he has been participating in classes along with the other students.

He visited the school this morning in a wheelchair.

Shaw will graduate this year ranking 20th scholastically in the senior class of 700.

Today was a big day. At an assembly Shaw was presented a membership in the National Honor Society for his scholastic standing.

He started his education in 1940 and since that time he has completed the required work necessary to graduate from high school next May. He is 21.

Shaw lives with his grandmother, Mrs. C. V. Smith. His father lives in Truman, Ark. His mother is dead.

After the assembly was over he was so enthusiastic over meeting his classmates, he said "I think I might go to the senior prom."

Unethical Lawyers Discussed

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Harry Gershenson, president of the Missouri Bar, said today a strict "self-policing" program assures the public of protection against unethical lawyers.

Gershenson, of St. Louis, discussed the work of a special committee on professional conduct in a report prepared for a mid-year meeting of the integrated bar board of governors and committee members.

"Far less than one per cent of all lawyers step over the lines of good morals and good ethics," he said. "But we insist that these men should be disciplined promptly and effectively. In this way only will we maintain the respect of the public and the prestige of the profession."

A concerted effort will be made to convince lawyers that they should come forward to their various bar committees and register complaints as to unethical conduct about which they learn. Likewise, the public is asked to be ready and willing to cooperate with the bar committees so that complete and accurate information can be available for the investigation.

Gershenson reported he has appointed a new medical-legal committee to explore problems in connection with medical testimony in the courts.

Believes Antarctic Land One Continent

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—A scientist has indicated the land of the antarctic he crossed with Dr. Vivian Fuchs' transantarctic expedition may be all one continent.

Some scientists have suggested that the antarctic may be separate land masses bridged by ice. One theory holds that an ocean channel runs across the antarctic from the Weddell Sea below South America to the Ross Sea below New Zealand.

Seismologist Geoffrey Pratt reported that his daily seismic soundings on the 940-mile trek disclosed no points where the ice-covered land is below sea level. The expedition crossed a 600-mile Fuchs have camped on the Weddell Sea to the South Pole.

Klan Rally to Be Held Tonight Says Leader

BURLINGTON, N.C. (AP)—The Rev. James Cole of Marion, S.C., self-styled leader of the North Carolina Ku Klux Klan, says a Klan rally will be held near here tonight.

Cole was leader of a KKK group that gathered last Saturday near Marion, N.C., 100 miles south of here. Armed Lumbert Indians, angered at cross-burnings staged by the Klan in the Robeson County area as warnings against armed mixing, broke up the rally within minutes of its start.

Doubts were raised yesterday that the Klan would hold its scheduled rally near this textile industry city in central North Carolina.

Cole, informed Thursday that if he re-enters North Carolina he will be arrested as a fugitive, said he would not attend the rally.

Cole is under indictment on a charge of inciting riot between the Indians and the Klansmen.

Walter Anderson, director of the State Bureau of Investigation at Raleigh, announced he had information that the owner of the rally site withdrew from the plans and that the rally was cancelled.

However, when the 33-year-old Cole was told of Anderson's statement, he said the meeting would go ahead as planned.

At the abortive Marion rally countless rounds of ammunition were fired but only four persons were slightly injured. State police dispersed the crowd with tear gas, the hustled the Klansmen off.

Cole was indicted by a Robeson County grand jury this week on charges of inciting riot. He posted $10,000 bond at Marion, S.C., but refused extradition. Solicitor Maurice Branswell of Robeson County said extradition papers were filed Thursday for forwarding to South Carolina Gov. George Bell, Jr., for action.

Branswell, who warned Cole by telephone that he would be arrested if he came back into North Carolina, said he hopes to try Cole on the riot charge next Wednesday at Lumberton.

Faubus Takes Poke at Mann Articles

MEMPHIS (UP)—Gov. Faubus termed "a series of articles by former Little Rock Mayor Woodrow W. Mann, Thursday night as 'an example of the worst type of publicity to have come out of the Little Rock situation.'"

Faubus spoke to more than 500 persons attending the 12th annual Chamber of Commerce banquet of West Memphis.

"The Arkansas Gazette would not dare to publish Mann's series of articles," said Faubus, "because the errors are so obvious that the people of Little Rock and Arkansas would spot them immediately."

"I merely point out Mann's story to point out some of the bad publicity given Arkansas and Little Rock," Faubus said. "Those who have made the most criticism of the situation have been those who have contributed the least to the solution."

Feltman Now Places Jewish Scriptures

By EDWARD S. KITCH

CHICAGO (UP) — Melbourne I. Feltman who has placed Bibles in 20 million Christian homes in the past 17 years has turned his attention to placing Jewish scriptures.

"There's a very definite need for it," says the 51-year-old graduate of the Central School of Religion in Indianapolis. "Regardless of a man's religion, he wants peace of mind."

"The Protestant has always been a Bible reader. The Catholic only recently has become a Bible reader. The Jew has had no available complete bible, except in small sizes and in Hebrew texts."

Feltman has supervised production of the Jewish bible for the past four years as executive director of publication. He has hopes of placing several thousand in Jewish homes.

He calls it the first complete English translation of the holy scriptures of the Jewish text known as the Tanach. It contains the Torah (Law), the Nebi'im (Prophets) and the Ketubim (Writings).

It is endorsed by the Orthodox, Conservative and Reform branches of the Jewish faith. Special forewords have been written by prominent rabbis of each branch.

Rabbi David de Sola Pool, Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue, New York, wrote the foreword for the Orthodox branch; Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver of The Temple, Cleveland, for the Conservative; and Rabbi Edgar B. Siskin, North Shore Congregation Israel, Glenview, Ill., for the Reform.

Ike Leaves Door Open for Arms Changes

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower is reported keeping the door open for possible changes in disarmament policy along lines recommended by Harold Stassen.

Stassen is understood to have directed special government committees to check into the proposed which Stassen has been pushing as a new approach to renewed talks with the Soviet Union. Disarmament discussions in London last year ended in a deadlock.

Stassen, White House disarmament adviser, has run into strong opposition from Secretary of State Dulles. Dulles reportedly regards many of Stassen's proposed changes as sensible, but has bitterly opposed Stassen's plan that the government soften its position on an end to atomic tests.

One official, who opposes many of Stassen's proposals, said today Stassen might succeed in winning President Eisenhower's approval for up to 80 per cent of his suggested changes.

This official said Stassen might even succeed in persuading Eisenhower to modify to some extent the existing American insistence on an end to nuclear weapons production within two years as part of any agreement to end atomic testing.

Stassen is understood to have won substantial support from some administration leaders at a Jan. 13 meeting of the National Security Council at which his proposals were discussed.

The changes reported being hammered out in American disarmament policy would cover these points:

1. A firm plan for international control of atomic missiles via inspection by a United Nations committee set up for this purpose.

2. A revised American offer to suspend atomic tests. This may be a compromise between Stassen's "no tests" and Dulles' insistence on keeping the test ban but the need to end weapons production but perhaps not until later.

3. An offer to increase the amount of fissile material to be contributed to an international agency by the United States and to scale down the amount Russia would have to contribute.

4. A reduction in the armed force levels Russia and the United States would promise to abide by in all fields. At present this figure is 2 1/2 million men.

5. An expression of readiness to agree on parts of the disarmament package without having agreement in one field on complete acceptance of all.

Organization Devoted to Plain Loafing

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP) — A reminder of the crazes that fill about this town arrived by mail today in the form of a card declaring me a charter member of "U.U."

U.U.? That's Uppers Unanimous. It's described on the card as being "The Society for the Amelioration, Emasculation, and Eventual Elimination of Peptic and Duodenal Ulcers."

It turns out to be an anti-tenseness organization, "devoted to unwinding, relaxing, and just plain loafing." It advocates four-day weekends, two-hour stashes, and letting new bills become old. It absolutely forbids lunching at work desks, barking at secretaries, or yessing bosses.

This worthy outfit held its first annual do-nothing convention on Jan. 25. I stayed this week during a 10-hour lunch break. I was unable to attend because I couldn't get up energy enough.

In this age of brittle nerves, wound-up brains, and hair-trigger dispositions, U.U.'s aims are admirable. And it gives me an idea. Apparently it's anybody's privilege to start such an investigation.

Herewith I become founder and managing director of the following long-needed national organizations:

L.L. — Lists Lunatic: Society for the strangling, throwing down, and tromping underfoot of all the looney lists of "the 10 best," or "the 10 most."

P.P. — Pashions Pallidous: Society for the prevention of the masquerading of such horrors as the gummy sack dress and the monster-happy hat under the name of beauty.

A.A. (1) Abstainers Anonymous: Society for people who are ashamed they made certain New Year's resolutions and crave the miserable company of people who feel the same way.

A.A. (2) — Appetites Avaricious: Society for completely ignoring the warnings against eating what ever you want whenever it is set before you wherever and how-much-ever you please.

S.S. — Shavers Shambous: Society of mutual sympathy among men who makes a shambles of their faces trying to shave as fast as the bulldozers demonstrating razors on television.

F.F. (1) — Filters Frivolous: Society for the propagation of cigarette filters containing boosters, which automatically increase the nicotine content of the smoke as it passes through.

C.C. — Commercial Contumacious: Society for aroused and righteous protest against the swiftness of radio and TV commercials whose sound booms out above the normal sound level so suddenly that it wakes sleeping neighbors for blocks around.

Convicted Marine Wound His Sergeants

By JOHN SCALI

HONOLULU (UP) — A Marine sergeant, who had just been convicted by a summary court-martial badly wounded his sergeant yesterday and then held out for four hours before surrendering to a chaplain.

A chaplain, the Rev. Connell J. Maguire, talked to Lindsay for four hours at the bachelor officers' quarters before he put away his pistol and surrendered.

A spokesman said Lindsay had just been convicted of failing to report at the specified time for his assigned duties. Winbush was one of two persons who testified against him.

Lindsay's sentence was 20 days confinement and $40 fine. He had been convicted of other offenses in two previous courts-martial and reduced two grades in rank.

The railroad man testified that he was on his way home from a visit to Melvern when he saw a group of white and Negro youths arguing on a sidewalk. He got out of his automobile to investigate, he said, and Walter threw a concrete at him.

Air Force Jets Collide, Two Pilots Killed

BOSTON (UP) — Two airmen were killed and two others parachuted to safety in the crash of two Air Force jet planes about 22,000 feet over metropolitan Boston yesterday.

The plane from which the two men parachuted, wrecked on home and set fire to two others as it crashed in Wingham.

The other plane, carrying two men to their deaths, plunged into a Lowell Street yard in Arlington. Witnesses said the pilot appeared to be trying to maneuver the craft into Washington Reservoir.

No residents were injured. Dead in the wreckage of the F-94 jet plane, Capt. Orlis Air Force Base, Cape Cod, was 1st Lt. Joseph G. Lopez, 23, of Chester, Pa., the pilot, and 1st Lt. John P. Moran, 21, of Chicago.

The two men who parachuted from their damaged plane—a T-33 out of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, N. Y.—are 1st Harold Voldmoe, 30, and Capt. William Bridger, 33, both of Newburgh.

Priest to Trial for Murder of Girl
NANCY France — Nervously fingering a rosary, a 27-year-old excommunicated priest went on trial today on charges of murdering a teenage girl and the unborn child she carried.

The courtroom was jammed and hushed as Guy Desnoyers, former priest in the village of Vaulx, stood before Judge President.

Wearing a white shirt and an open-collared sweater, he lowered his head as the accusation was read. The president then described what he called the "first fault" of the priest—an affair with a girl whose husband was in military service. "This was adultery," the president said.

Mrs. Desnoyers interrupted. "The priest is on trial for the death of 16-year-old Nicole Fay, shot Dec. 8, 1956, at the village outside hours before she was to

Tame H-Bomb Means Power Unlimited

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

Taming the H-bomb could give all nations unlimited power or energy for millions of years.

Today's announcement of British progress on the problem at Harwell makes it plain that, material use, is still years away, but the fact that scientists have unlocked some of the secrets is of vast importance to the world of the future.

Here's why: We are rapidly using up the coal and oil we burn to warm our homes, run our autos and produce electrical energy.

The energy locked up within the hearts or nuclei of atoms, however, is virtually inexhaustible. Atom hearts contain the basic material or mass of everything, living or lifeless. Some of this atomic mass can be transformed into energy. This is what happens in A-bombs or atomic power plants.

The nucleus of an atom of uranium-235 (or certain other heavy atoms) is split or fissioned into two or more pieces. But all these pieces together aren't as heavy as the original single nucleus. Some of the matter was changed into useful energy.

The world doesn't have inexhaustible supplies of the heavy atoms that will split this way. One estimate is that all such reserves world's remaining coal.

We could run out of atomic power in time.

Even more crucial is the fact that the atomic splitting creates highly dangerous radioactive ashes which are becoming more and more troublesome to dump anywhere safely.

The H-bomb or fusion reaction offers a way out. It produces no radioactive ashes.

(The radioactivity from H-bombs mainly comes from the bomb trigger, or from materials, such as a uranium jacket, used to give it more explosive force.)

In fusion, lightweight atoms combine to create heavier ones. Two atoms of double-weight hydrogen become one atom of helium, for example. The heart of this helium atom weighs less than the two original hydrogen atoms. Some of the original mass turned into energy.

It takes tremendous heat and pressure to produce the fusion. The peacetime problem is to get enormous temperatures and materials and methods to keep fusion going at a controlled rate and draw off useful heat from it. This is what scientists hope to solve. They are making some progress.

Controlled H-fusion means we could use double-weight hydrogen called deuterium, as our principal fuel without dangerous radioactive by-products. The world's oceans contain enough to power civilization for millions or even billions of years.

And deuterium is not costly to get from the seas. Cost has been estimated as making deuterium less than 1 per cent as expensive as coal as a fuel.

Force Woman to Draw Out Savings
ST. LOUIS (UP) — Two men accosted a woman in the lobby of the Mutual Bank and Trust Company, ordered her to withdraw her savings, then escorted her to the street where they took $118 from her.

Miss Nettie Reynolds, 23, said the men approached her as she was filling out a withdrawal deposit for $25. She said one of the men kept his hand in her pocket as though he was concealing a weapon and told her to withdraw her entire savings and leave with them.

She said the men escorted her to a car and drove her away from the bank, took her money and let her out.

Great Plains Land Has Less Damage
WASHINGTON (UP) — Only a third as much land in the Great Plains has been damaged by wind erosion this season as a year ago, the Agriculture Department says.

The damage to Jan. 1 was estimated at 928,000 acres compared with 2,700,000 damage to the same date a year ago. Most of this season's damage was in Texas, Colorado and Montana.

The department said subsou moisture conditions in the Great Plains continue favorable.

Letters to the Editor

This is your newspaper. Write to it. Let us utilize the editorial policy or commenting upon facts in the news columns, are equally welcome. Every writer must sign his name and address but publication of name may be withheld if requested.

To The Editor, The Hope Star: Through your columns, I would like to express my personal thanks to the hundreds of people who participated in the Religious Census last Sunday. Those who participated did an excellent piece of work, and the results should aid the churches greatly in their programs of evangelism.

In looking over cards turned over to our church, I have not seen a single case of illogical writing, or careless recording of vital information. So to all who helped, Thank you.

Also I would like to thank the Star, and the other media of publicity, KXAR and KCMC-TV for their fine assistance.

Sincerely,
Wm. E. Harris, President

New Planes Can Fly 3,600 Miles Per Hour

WASHINGTON (UP) — Three planes planned to fly 3,600 miles an hour, are being built for use in research flights more than 100 miles up.

The X15S may go into early next year over the California desert in a project run jointly by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Air Force, the Navy and North American Aviation, Inc. North American is building the three planes.

Research delays caused by work that had to be done after previous flights of X1 and X2 experimental planes led in part to plans to build three X15S. The idea is that with three research aircraft on hand, the experiments can go on without a break.

The X15 is designed to fly much faster than either the X1 or the X2, but its capacity for powered flight is not expected to be much more than the three minutes of its predecessors.

Starts Wednesday at Saenger

A tense and exciting sea drama "The Enemy Below," opens at the Saenger Wednesday, January 28. Producer-Director Dick Powell in his first effort at Twentieth Century-Fox, has given this story of a duel-to-the-death naval battle between a U. S. destroyer and a German submarine such expert handling that it can be rated one of the best pictures of its type ever filmed. Many service pictures have come out of Hollywood but none have had the vividness of dialogue, action and technical perfection that makes "The Enemy Below" almost classic.

WORSHIP EVERY SUNDAY IN YOUR FAVORITE CHURCH

YOU NEED THE SPIRITUAL UPLIFT OF A PRAYER-HOUR IN GOD'S HOUSE

MAKING PREPARATION

...but maybe too late!

True we have our furnaces fired, our machinery greased and men to man the tasks... but where is God?

Nations are tampering with His creation and threatening every day to blow it to bits... with no thought of God.

His church is on the corner and His servants are telling His simple story but it means little to men bent on destroying things and people. No nation can curse God and get away with it.

He will paralyze them as He did the serpent.

Likewise, He will deliver them as He did those in bondage long ago when they seek Him. Whenever and wherever men humble themselves God will make a way. Why not spend some time making preparation for a greater day... the final day?

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.
